15 LIFE ON LAND

One million species are at risk of extinction
100 million hectares of land are degraded
each year

What World Do
You Want in 2030?

WHAT
At NatureAllies, we sell products that reflect our commitment to the conservation of threatened species. We support sustainable initiatives to contribute to the SDG 15 and create a positive impact on life on Earth

HOW
We research the challenges and opportunities related to SDG 15 and design creative products that reflect the beauty and fragility of endangered species. Additionally, we collaborate with organizations, educational institutions, and the community to spread the message and promote conservation.

WHY
We inspire awareness and action to protect the planet's biodiversity and natural beauty.
- We safeguard the freedom of endangered species for a sustainable future.
- We promote an emotional connection between people and nature through art and conservation

Call to Adventure

On the planet Pandora, Adhara, a brave girl, sends a distress message to the children of Earth to save a creature in danger that represents the hope of her world.

Meeting with the Mentor

The children, moved by the call, realize that they also face extinction problems and decide to unite under Sustainable Development Goal number 15 to protect life on land.

Tests and Enemies

Facing challenges in their mission, they recruit allies, establish Natureallies, and work together to restore habitats and create protected areas for various species.

Return with the Elixir

Thanks to their efforts, the creature from Pandora thrives on Earth, revitalizing the planet and creating a legacy of hope and collaboration that inspires everyone to care for our
