

ATLANTIS

6 CLEAN WATER AND SANITATION

Worldwide, one in three people lacks access to clean drinking water, two in five lack basic facilities for washing their hands with water and soap, and more than 673 million do not have sanitation facilities for their physiological needs.

What World Do You Want in 2030?

WHAT

The Water League offers a wide range of innovative and sustainable solutions designed to promote conscious and responsible water consumption. As part of our environmental awareness initiative, we collaborate with the talented citizens of Atlantis to create objects that convey inspiring messages about the care and preservation of water.

HOW

In the Water League, we focus on providing practical and effective solutions to address water consumption by measuring and reducing the water footprint comprehensively. Through innovation and education, we propose products that contribute to water conservation and the improvement of its quality, proactively aligned with SDG 6. Our comprehensive approach aims to create a significant impact in promoting responsible and sustainable water management

WHY

We recognize that every drop of water is a treasure that deserves to be protected and valued. Our motto, 'Every Drop Matters,' reflects our conviction that every action, no matter how small, can have a significant impact on the conservation of this essential resource for life on our planet. We are inspired by the courage and determination of the heroes who have fought for the preservation and right to water, and we are committed to continuing their legacy by protecting it for future generations

Call to Adventure

In a world affected by global warming and water pollution, the first Water League decides to exterminate humanity, whom they blame for the devastation. However, from ATLANTIS emerge nine superheroes who recognize the interdependence of all species with water. These heroes feel the call to save both humanity and water, understanding that the solution lies in education and collaboration, not destruction

Meeting with the Mentor

The heroes, eager to act, seek the guidance of an ancient water guardian who has lived in harmony with nature. He explains to them the essence of water and its role in life, emphasizing that true power lies in knowledge and responsibility. They learn to be ambassadors of water, inspiring humans to change their habits and care for this invaluable resource.

Tests and Enemies

Equipped with the knowledge of the water guardian, the superheroes begin their mission, presenting themselves to communities with a message of hope and responsibility. They face numerous challenges, including the resistance of those who believe that change is impossible and corporate forces that wish to maintain their harmful habits with water. Misinformation and skepticism are their main obstacles. Each trial they face strengthens their resolve and solidifies their bonds

Return with the Elixir

After overcoming numerous trials, the New Water League manages to implement significant change. The booklets created by citizen leaders become essential tools for education and awareness about water conservation. Over time, people begin to adopt new habits. The heroes return to the Water League with the Elixir of knowledge and transformation, symbolizing their victory not only as the salvation of their species but also as a renewed commitment to care for and restore water.
